

12 July 2013

RE: INDUSTRIAL REFRIGERATION LTD (IRL)

To whom it may concern

Aquaheat New Zealand have undertaken projects where IRL has been subcontracted for work which has included HVAC pipework, fume cupboard flues, and laboratory gases.

Gary and his team of experienced tradesmen have excellent skills and are capable of working with most material types. IRL are able to undertake projects that are specialist in nature which require a greater degree of planning in order to ensure success.

IRL's attention to detail and quality management always delivers a quality finished product.

Gary, is always helpful and friendly in his business dealings with our project managers and our management team.

I have no hesitation to recommend IRL and am certain that Gary and his team will always deliver consistently good work.

Yours faithfully

Brett Laurent
Northern Region
General Manager